Notes: Many of the stickies have patches of sand on them (prior to deployment).

- Helicopter wind?
- either way - those areas are less sticky than the areas w/ less sand/no sand
- Δ's the study? - or are they always like that?

@ Chute Falls camp.

- Sky is dark and looks sketchy.
- Ate lunch - waiting to see/decide to go upstream
- then it started raining & lightning. we quickly set up shelter in case the rain didn't stop.
- Shelter set - Rain stopped of course
- 1513. - Unsure of whether to proceed upstream or not? Sky is looking sketchy, we're safe here.
- Do we chance it?

- Something might blow?
- Something might not?

- There's no way to know. Sent InReach msg. to Ward asking local weather conditions.
- Dark skies moving in and sort quickly
- Thunder.

Factors. 830.1

- go up as far as possible? →
- Side cys. blowing.
- Very humid & very dark skies.
- It already rained hard on us for ~ 15 minutes, then went away
- Life? - Injury?
- Science? - Data?
- What if I'm just over-worried?
- Aaaand --- the water just turned brown. → 1535...
- Stick meter!
- Not going any further
- Will re-assess tomorrow for Blue Spring Benthic.

- We'll take the benthic @ Chute camp today in-case we go to BS tomorrow or the river floods.

▷ B00869.

Chute Benthic 9/22/2015 → 16.04 → 1704.

- D-Net Sampling → Effort = 1 minute
- Picking effort → 45 minutes × 2 people.

9/23/2015 → Water turned Blue, Wind said ^{OK!} ~~24~~ 23

- chute camp. → going to head up to BS
for a Benthic & a beading.

sampling effort: 1224 → 1228

picking effort: 17 minutes x 2 ppl.

No bugs?

much of the rocks from beach up to BS have been soured. AKA → Not slice.
